WELCOME ABOARD

It is my pleasure to welcome you to Naval Hospital, Oakland, and wish you and members of your family a happy and rewarding stay in this friendly and interesting community.

Our primary objective is to provide quality care for active duty and retired personnel of the Armed Forces and their dependents. We are also entrusted with the important task of training health personnel and with carrying on research that supports patient care. Achievement of our objectives depends upon the cooperation and dedication of every member of the staff. I am confident that you will give us your best professionally. I hope you will also take time to enjoy the cultural, educational, and recreational opportunities that abound in the Oakland-San Francisco Bay Area, making Naval Hospital, Oakland, particularly good duty.

This brochure has been prepared to acquaint you with some of those opportunities as well as with the many conveniences and pleasures that are available within the gates of the hospital.

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read 'H. P. Mahin'. The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

H. P. MAHIN
Rear Admiral, MC, U.S. Navy
Commanding Officer

Dedicated 29 June 1968, the new building is a nine-story, ultra-modern facility.

HISTORY OF NAVAL HOSPITAL, OAKLAND

In the early spring of 1942, just a few months after Pearl Harbor, 25 barrack-type redwood buildings were beginning to take shape in the East Oakland foothills on the site of the former Oak Knoll Golf and Country Club. They were the nucleus of the sprawling "temporary" hospital the Navy built to receive the thousands of World War II casualties that were to be brought back from Pacific Battle zones.

The hospital was commissioned 1 July 1942, with six ward buildings and 204 beds ready for occupancy. Construction kept pace with developments in the Pacific, and in 1945 at the climax of the war, the hospital was caring for more than 6,000 patients and had a military and civilian staff of approximately 3,000.

Contractors brought the total number of buildings on the 220-acre compound to 135—including the chapel, auditorium, navy exchange store, library, and a few quarters for staff. The swimming pool was built with funds raised by Kay Kayser and his then popular College of Musical Knowledge. The hospital teemed with activity. In terms of patient population, it was one of the Navy's largest. Relatives rushed from across the nation to visit their loved ones. Entertainers—Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Jack Benny, Edgar Bergen and Charlie Mc-Carthy, and many other celebrities—came to boost the morale of the wounded.

Citation ceremonies at which hundreds received medals for heroism, along with the Purple Heart, were held regularly in Gendreau Circle, named for a Navy Medical Officer who lost his life serving in the South Pacific.

With demobilization both the activity and the population declined, only to rise again during the Korean War when the daily patient census averaged 2500. This figure fell to a peacetime level of around 600, but with the influx of Vietnam casualties beginning in 1965, the tempo of life at the hospital increased again, both in regard to patient care requirements and in morale-building activities. Once again award ceremonies are frequent. Parents arrive from across the United States almost daily. Celebrities and citizens of the community are eager to become involved.

An important step in the development of the hospital came in 1950 when the Navy's West Coast Centers for care of amputee and neuropsychiatric patients were moved from Mare Island when that 100-year-old Naval Hospital was reduced to dispensary status.

This was Naval Hospital, Oakland, in 1945, when the patient census was 6,000, the staff complement 3,000.

As other patient care facilities were added—the artificial kidney, radioisotope laboratory, and cobalt therapy unit—to name but a few, the need for a facility worthy of the hospital's achievements in patient care, training, and research was keenly felt, as it had been almost from the beginning.

Finally, on 26 June 1963, after extensive studies at local and national levels, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara approved construction of a multi-story Navy hospital on the original site. On 8 August 1964 Congress approved funds for construction of the present 9-story hospital to be built at a cost of $14,500,000. The ground-breaking took place 7 December 1965. A little over three years later, on 29 June 1968, the building was dedicated, and the move from the 26-year-old "temporary" hospital began. The flag was raised at the entrance of the 650 bed structure 3 September 1968.

The daily census during the Vietnam war has ranged from 750 to 1,000. Patients not requiring round-the-clock care or close supervision are housed in outlying original buildings, refurbished for this purpose.

Located in the heart of an attractive residential district, the compound retains the original country club atmosphere. The handsome Spanish style clubhouse that housed all administrative and many other functions during the early days is now used as the Officers' Club.

THE PAINTINGS

The original paintings that enhance the lobbies, passageways, and day rooms of the hospital are the gifts of Northern California Councils of Navy League, Treasure Island and Naval Hospital Officers' Wives Club, and a group of artists in Fremont, Nebraska, who responded to the request of a fellow citizen, inspired by his visit to a patient on the amputee ward. As a result of that visit, the generous Nebraskan also raised $7,000 for the purchase of remote control television sets for patients' rooms.

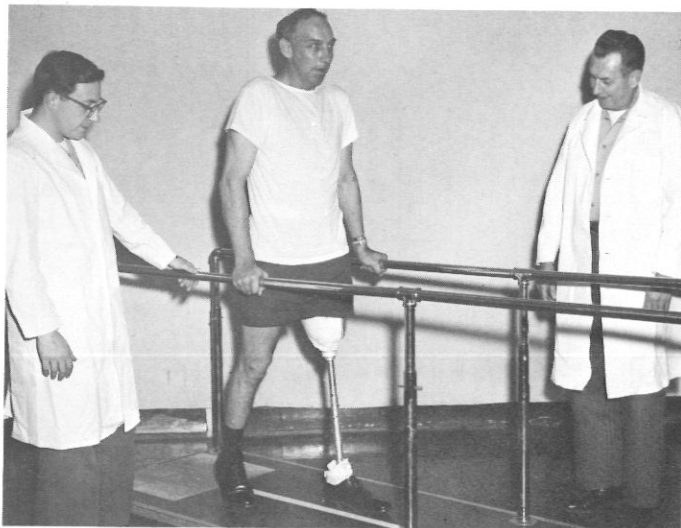

Works of art to appeal to every age are included in the hospital art collection.

MISSION

To provide general clinical and hospitalization services for active duty Navy and Marine Corps personnel, active duty members of the other armed services, dependents of active duty personnel, and other authorized persons as outlined in current directives. To cooperate with military and civil authorities in matters pertaining to health, sanitation, local disasters, and other emergencies.

The Navy Nurse and Hospital Corpsman are important members of the hospital team.

Accelerated fitting cuts down period of hospitalization for amputees.

TASKS

Perform the functions of a regional hospital for those activities outlined in current DOD directives.

- Provide specialized treatment in the following specialties for the Navy as a whole and other authorized personnel: Plastic Surgery, Neurosurgery, Thoracic Surgery, Amputations, Keratoplasty, Aural Surgery, Renal Dialysis, Radioisotope Laboratory, Oncology, Neurology, Neuropsychiatry.
- Provide, train and maintain augmentation personnel for immediate availability to the operating forces as provided in current instructions.
- Provide personnel for, train, and maintain surgical teams to be immediately available to the operating forces when directed by Chief of Naval Operations.
- Operate a Whole Blood Donor Center and Blood Bank.
- Conduct residency and internship training programs for Medical Corps and Dental Corps officers of the U.S. Armed Services and observerships for foreign military medical personnel.
- Provide on-the-job specialty training for Group X hospital corpsmen as appropriate.
- Conduct formal training of Group X hospital corpsmen in the technical specialties outlined in current BUMED directives.
- Conduct in-service training of Group X hospital corpsmen.
- Regional data processing center for assigned activities.
- Perform care-of-the-dead program under the general supervision of the Bureau and in coordination with the program administered by the commandants as outlined in current directives.
- Perform formal physical examinations of candidates for admission to the Armed Forces academies.
- Perform or undertake such other appropriate functions as may be authorized or directed by higher authority.
- Serve as histopathological center for the Twelfth, Thirteenth, and Seventeenth Naval Districts.
- Operate a prosthetic eye and maxillofacial surgery clinic.
- Operate an Aural and Speech Rehabilitation Center.
- Accomplish indoctrination training of newly acquired medical officers in various aspects of the naval service.
- Serve as debarkation hospital for the San Francisco Port of Entry for patients arriving by surface transportation.
- Provide personnel for, train, equip, and maintain disaster control teams for use by the District Commandant in support of the Twelfth Naval District's Disaster Plan.
- Provide a mobilization capability for casualties resulting from military action in the entire Pacific area.

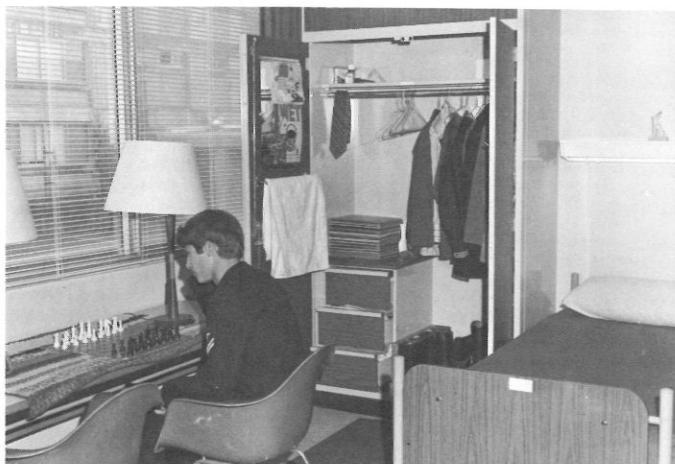

(Left)

A busy schedule is maintained in the hospital's ten operating rooms.

Dependent care is an important part of the hospital's mission.

The new Enlisted Quarters are shipshape inside and out. At left is one corpsman's corner in a four-man room, at right, a sunny patio that overlooks a wooded canyon.

HOUSING FACILITIES

Family housing on the compound consists of five sets of Quarters for senior officers, ten for junior officers, and 36 for enlisted personnel. Housing is assigned as follows: Senior Quarters—to personnel occupying billets carrying greatest stress and responsibility; Junior Quarters—on the basis of needs of the professional services; Enlisted Quarters—on a “first-come, first-served” basis with bedroom requirements a factor. There is a waiting list for housing.

An enlisted personnel barracks built at a cost of $1,400,000 was dedicated 27 November 1970. It accommodates 356 men, four to a room, and 30 women, three to a room. Reception rooms, TV and game rooms provide a relaxing atmosphere.

The Navy Exchange operates a motel of 16 rooms with connecting baths in Bldg. 66A, Telephone (415) 639-2051, for next of kin of seriously ill patients. When space is available, incoming staff may use these facilities. Fees are minimal.

Additional family housing is available at Naval Air Station, Alameda. There is a waiting list, and application must be made at Alameda.

Most staff members rent or buy in Oakland or other nearby communities. Assistance in locating an apartment or in buying a home may be obtained at the Housing Referral Office, where lists of conveniently located rentals and sales are maintained. Names of reputable real estate agents will be made available to prospective home buyers.

Limited low cost temporary housing (five-day minimum) is available at Jacob Hall, Oakland Army Base. Call (415) 466-3067 for reservations.

For personnel whose household effects are delayed, the Housing Referral Office will provide hospitality kits which contain kitchen and dining items, bath and bed linens.

The Housing Referral Office is in Bldg. 60A, Ext. 2309. Hours are 0830 to 1630 Monday through Friday.

DIVINE SERVICES

Patients and staff may attend the religious service of their choice in one of two beautiful chapels—the family chapel near the main gate or the Chapel of Hope on the third floor of the hospital. Nursery care for small children is available in Bldg. 133 during 1030 Protestant Service and the 1215 Mass for the convenience of young parents.

UNIFORM

The year-round uniform of the day in the Twelfth Naval District is service dress blue. From 1 April through 31 October the following uniforms may be worn: Service dress khaki, service dress white, tropical white long, and tropical khaki long. From 1 November through 31 March, service dress khaki may be worn. In San Francisco, often referred to as a naturally air-conditioned city, enlisted personnel wear dress blues while on liberty throughout the year.

FOOD SERVICES

DINING ROOMS

Dining Rooms for staff officers and for military and civilian staff and patients are located on the third floor. Both are open daily from 0600-0745 for breakfast; 1100-1300 for lunch; and 1600-1800 for supper. For other places to eat on the compound, see Navy Exchange and club listings.

The old Oak Knoll Golf and Country Club was the only permanent building on the compound for 26 years. It is one of the Navy's most attractive Officers' Clubs.

NAVY EXCHANGE SERVICES

STORE

Authorized personnel may purchase clothing, household equipment, jewelry, sporting gear, and everyday necessities at the Navy Exchange Store, Community Services Building, Monday through Friday 1000-1700. ### OTHER NAVY EXCHANGE SERVICES

These include laundry, dry cleaning, and tailoring, shine stand, optical and watch repair shops, and during the spring and summer months a garden shop.

COMMISSARY STORES

Since there is no commissary at the hospital, personnel frequently use the stores at Naval Air Stations, Alameda and Moffett Field, Naval Station, Treasure Island, Naval Shipyards at Hunters Point and Mare Island, Oakland Army Base, Presidio of San Francisco, and Travis and Hamilton Air Force Bases.

CLUBS

COMMISSIONED OFFICERS' MESS (CLOSED)

Commissioned Officers' Mess (Closed) is the scene of a wide variety of social activities for staff officers and their families. Hail and Farewell parties are held to welcome newcomers and say goodbye to those departing and to take the place of calls made and returned. Events include dinner dances, outdoor barbecues, celebrations of anniversaries significant to the staff. Lunch is served weekdays in the Galleon Room.

OFFICERS' WIVES' CLUB

A social and service organization, the Officers' Wives' Club, holds luncheon meetings at the Commissioned Officers' Mess the second Wednesday of each month from September through June. Members sew layettes for Navy Relief, engage in other philanthropic projects, meet for bridge and other activities. Nursery facilities are provided during social functions.

CHIEF PETTY OFFICERS' CLUB

Adjoining the main gate parking lot, the CPO Club is a popular meeting place for staff chiefs and their friends. Refreshments and luncheon are available weekdays, and evening events are frequent. The club is available for special parties arranged by individual members.

ENLISTED MEN'S CLUB

Operated exclusively for staff personnel, their dependents, and guests. Facilities include ballroom; dining room; television room, and bar. Located adjacent to the CPO Club.

PACKAGE LIQUOR STORE

Project Transition brings data processing to bedside, helps serviceman find his niche when he returns to civilian life.

About the Surrounding Area

Naval Hospital, Oakland, is located in an area of great scenic beauty and unlimited cultural and recreational opportunities.

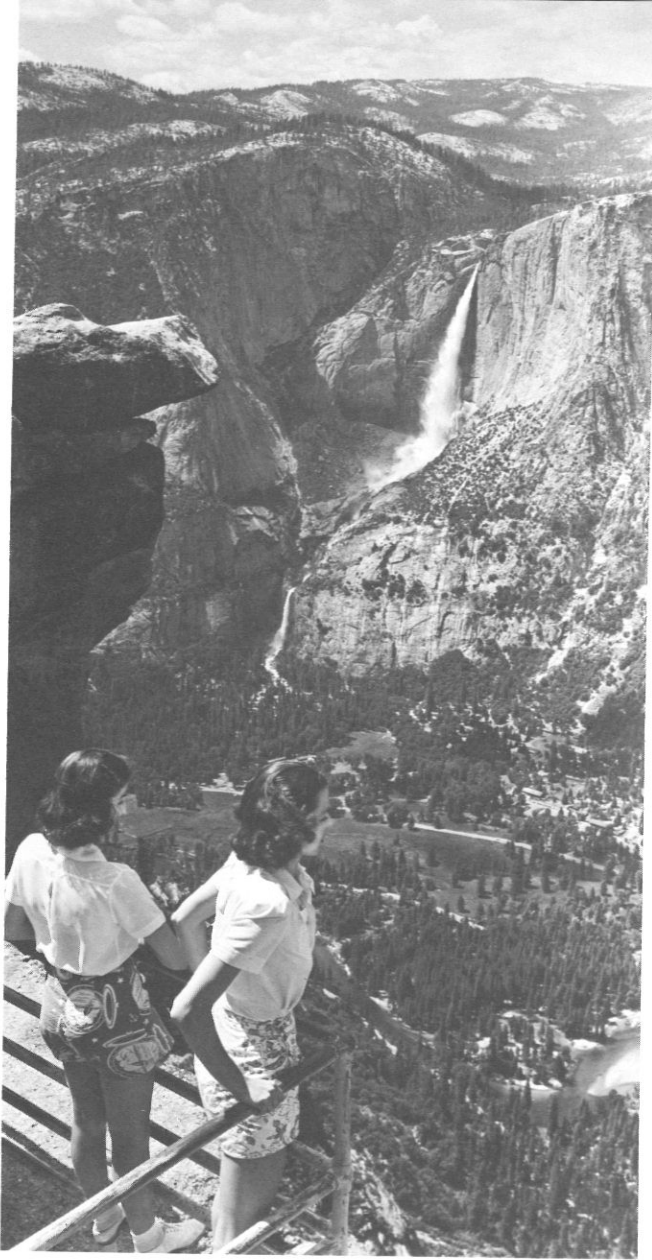

Nearby are the East Bay's Regional Parks and several excellent golf courses, and almost within sight of the hospital the Oakland Zoo. In downtown Oakland, Lake Merritt reflects the gigantic Kaiser Center and is rimmed by Children's Fairyland, the Sailboat House, and other attractions. The new Oakland Museum is a showplace widely acclaimed for its unusual garden-gallery design. On the estuary that separates Oakland from Alameda—home of the Naval Air Station and homeport of aircraft carriers—is historic Jack London Square, with its exciting restaurants and busy yacht harbor.

The Coliseum Complex, less than ten minutes from the hospital, is a battleground for baseball and football teams, with an adjoining "jewel box" arena for other sporting events, concerts, ice shows, and the famed Oakland Flower Show. Also nearby are Mills College, College of the Holy Names, Chabot and California State Colleges, and the confrontation-scarred University of California, Berkeley. Stanford University is within easy commuting distance.

Across the Oakland-Bay Bridge is San Francisco, delight to tourists from around the world as well as to residents from Twin Peaks to the Marina, who look out over the city and bay, watch ships arriving and departing through the Golden Gate, or count the cars crossing the world-famed Golden Gate span to "Marvelous Marin" County. Among the many attractions of San Francisco are Golden Gate Park, three fine, city-owned museums, the War Memorial Opera House, Fisherman's Wharf, Ghirardelli Square, Chinatown, the new Japanese Cultural Center, fine hotels, theaters, restaurants—and cable cars.

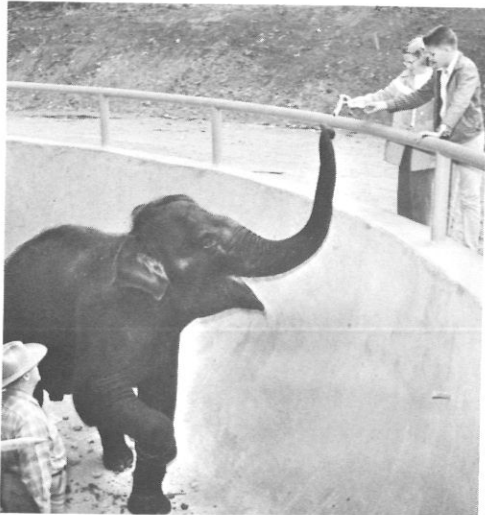

Other cities near the Naval Hospital, where many of its staff members rent or purchase attractive homes or apartments, are Alameda, San Leandro, Hayward, Castro Valley, Walnut Creek, and Danville.

Near enough for weekend outings are the Carmel-Monterey area, Big Sur, Lake Tahoe, Yosemite, Sequoia, and Kings' Canyon National Parks, and many other attractions millions of persons travel thousands of miles to see.

Yosemite—five hours away.

Sproul Plaza at the University of California

Oakland Zoo—five minutes away.

Avis

Just to remind you who rents clean new Plymouths, who tries harder and who treats a rental reservation like our very existence depends upon it.

Because it does.

The shortest distance between two points
is an Avis line.

In (downtown) Oakland
our line is 893-5600,
at Oakland International Airport it's 562-9000
